

Academy for Continuing Education.com - Esther Muller

Celebrating 22 Years of Excellence in Education

212-262-2662

<http://www.realestateacademy.com>

Since 1995 Esther Muller has been working with the New York Department of State to develop, create, and approve informative, timely and interesting courses which provides the 22.5 credit hours requirement for re-licensing. She believes it is the responsibility of Real Estate professionals to take every opportunity to educate themselves and commit themselves to better serve their clients and community. The goal of the Academy is to improve the productivity and professionalism in the Real Estate community through quality courses and excellent instructors. The Real Estate seminars unite brokers, agents, and owners with developers, managers, and regulators. Her mission is to develop a partnership of cooperation, understanding and good ethics.

REBNY The Real Estate Board of NY

212-532-3100

<https://www.rebny.com/content/rebny/en/education/onsite-courses.html>

REBNY offers a host of onsite and online courses taught by top New York City real estate industry professionals in commercial and residential brokerage and commercial and residential building management. They offer brokerage qualifying and licensing courses, continuing education, graduate designations, non-credit brokerage seminars, management best practice seminars and much more.

New York University

The Real Estate Institute at NYU

212-998-7171

<http://www.scps.nyu.edu/academics/departments/mcgee/undergraduate/bachelors/bs-real-estate.html>

Degrees: Graduate Certificate in Real Estate, Master of Science in Construction Management, Master of Science in Real Estate

Certificates: Appraisal of Investment Properties, Facility Management, Property Management, Real Estate Finance and Investment

Plus a bunch of Weekend Workshops, Seminars and FastTrack classes.

New York Real Estate Institute

212-967-7508

<http://www.nyrei.com>

They offer a myriad of courses and seminars on all aspects of the real estate industry, all to accommodate people with busy schedules.